

The Tragicke

Then tell me what doth he vpon the sea?

Dar. vnlesse for that my Leige I cannot guesse.

King. Vnlesse for that he comes to be your Liege,
You cannot guesse wherefore the Welchmen comes,
Thou wilt reuolt and flie to him I feare.

Dar. No mighty Liege, therefore mistrust me not.

King. Where is thy power now to beat him backe?
Where are thy tenants and thy followers?

Are they not now vpon the western shore,
Safe conducting the rebels from their ships,

Dar. No my good Lord my friends are in the North,

King. Cold friends to Richard, what do they in the North?
When they should serue their soueraigne in the West.

Dar. They haue not beene commanded mighty soueraigne,
Please it your Maiesty to giue me leaue,
Ile muster vp my friends and meete your grace,
Where and what time your maiesty shall please?

King. I, I, thou wouldst begone to ioyne with Richmond,
I will not trust you sir,

Dar. Most mighty soueraigne
You haue no cause to hold my friendship doubtfull,
I neuer was nor neuer will be false.

King. Well, go muster men; but heare you, leaue behind
Your son George Stanley, looke your faith be ferme:
Or else his heads assurance is but fraile.

Dar. So deale with him, as I proue true to you. Exit.
